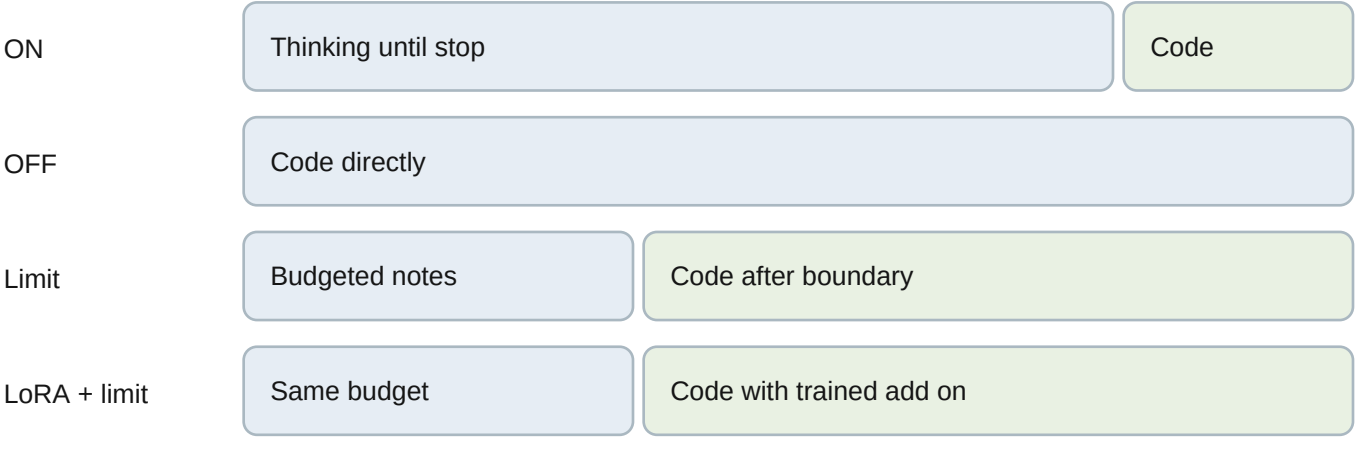
Thinking policies allocate output differently



Schematic only. Widths do not represent measured token proportions.