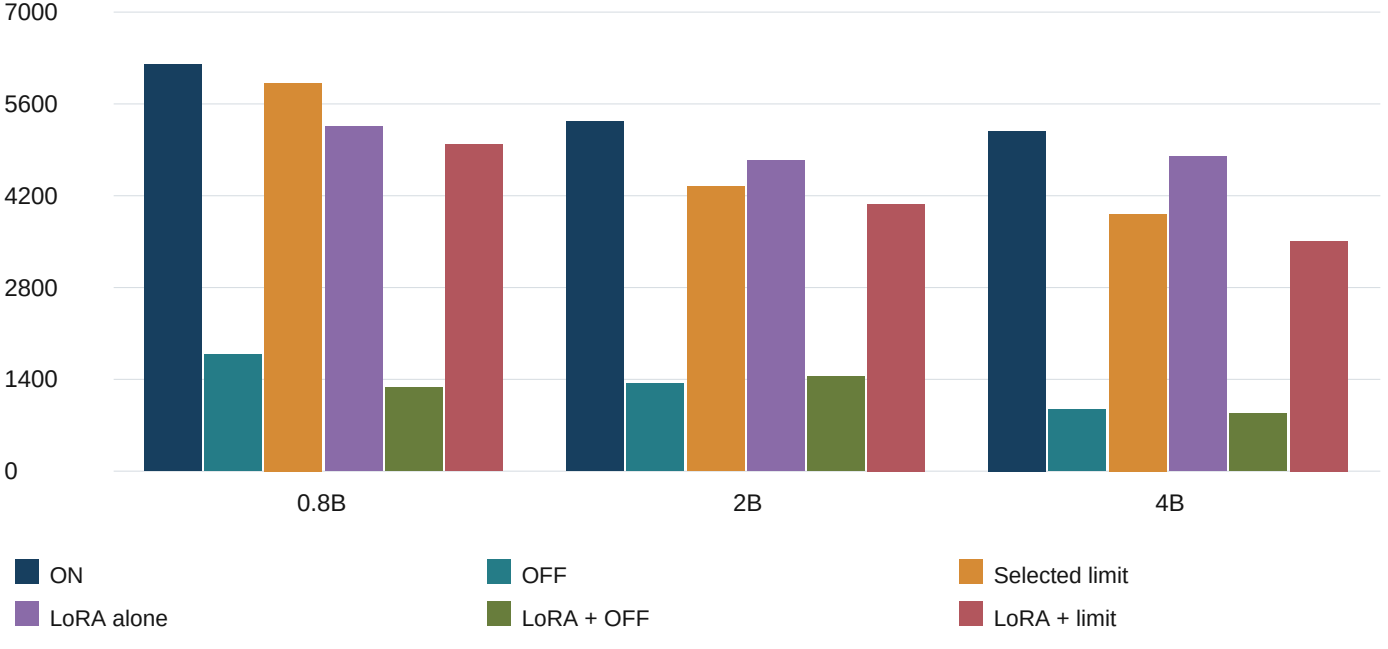
Full response length across model sizes


Total output tokens